

I WANNA GO

Honey Tongue

I Wanna Go

With a big voice, flowing piano lines, gritty guitars, thumping bass and superhero drums, Honey Tongue's music is an emotionally-charged blend of gritty power pop and alternative rock. This Seattle-based foursome has created a nationwide buzz with a full-time touring schedule and the release of its latest EP, "I Wanna Go," on Naga Night Records.

Honey Tongue engages and captivates audiences with its intelligent lyrics, soaring melodies and vibrant image. From a college in Kansas, to a packed house at Los Angeles' Viper Room, every Honey Tongue show sizzles, making the band a must-see in every major U.S. market.

Honey Tongue's chemistry is undeniable. Powerhouse vocalist and keyboardist Jen Ayers, guitarist Graham McNeill, bassist Sam Larson and drummer Darnton Lewis create dynamic music with a pop sensibility that translates into memorable, high-energy rock shows.

Honey Tongue's on-stage electricity, impressive songs, rave reviews and radio/T.V. appearances have earned the band showcase performances during SXSW Music Conference 2003 (for GoGirlsMusic), NACA 2003/04 Northern Plains & Central Regions (National Assoc. of Campus Activities), Nashville Music Conference 2002, EAT'M Music Conference 2002, Canada's New Music West 2001 (for the GRAMMY's), GoGirlsMusicFest 2001 and ROCKRGRL Music Conference 2000.

Tracks

1. I Wanna Go
2. Make Up Your Mind
3. Need You Now
4. Love Song
5. Senator (live)
6. Take Me Anywhere (live)

Contact

Booking:

Degy Booking International
Ph: 732-544-8000 Fax: 732-544-5600
Email: ari@degyc.com

Naga Night Records
Ph: 206-799-8122
info@honeytongue.com
www.honeytongue.com

UPC#: 689076513425
Wholesale Cost: $4.00
Suggested Retail Price: $7.99

"Take Me Anywhere" CD
UPC#: 659057330327
Wholesale Cost: $8.00
Suggested Retail Price: $12.99
Available through: Burnside Distribution

Fast Facts

- Latest EP, "I Wanna Go," produced by Jason Brennan (Alanis Morissette, Bruce Springsteen)
- Full-length CD debut, "Take Me Anywhere," produced by Brett Eliason (Pearl Jam, Neil Young, R.E.M., Jewel)
- Musical guest on Mitch Albom Show 3/7/03, nationally syndicated by ABC Radio Networks (8 million listeners)
- Named GoGirlsMusic's "Buzz Band" 2003 during SXSW Music Conference in Austin, TX
- Performed at 2002 Club NBA Jam Session for the NBA All-Star Game in Philadelphia, PA
- Crowned Touring Band of The Year 2001 and Best New Artist 2000 nominee by Seattle Area Music Awards
- Named Top Five Indie Artist of 2001 by Femmusic.com
- Frontwoman Jen Ayers (2-time Lilith Fair Talent Search Finalist), invited to sing National Anthem at several NBA & MLB games & had a featured role in reggae/rapper Shaggy's music video for "Strength of A Woman"
- Performed at numerous high-profile U.S. festivals including Seattle's Bumbershoot, Milwaukee's Summerfest, Denver's CHUN People's Fair, and secured over 50 college bookings for 2003-2004 thru NACA
- Shared bills with a wide range of artists including Jack Johnson, Dada, Bobby Bare JR, Gruntruck & Iffy Members of HT have also opened for Tom Petty, Dave Matthews Band and Vertical Horizon
- Filmed music video in NYC for "Senator," (about Columbine tragedy), featured on Fox-TV in Seattle & Milwaukee
- Featured live TV performances/interviews on Fox TV, Time Warner, AT&T Broadband & Seattle Real Music
- Radio play worldwide including KEXP-Seattle, Radio01-Hong Kong, KNAC-Los Angeles, KCSU-Ft Collins etc.
- Selected out of 800 independent bands for sponsorship by Corona Beer's Soundwaves Program 2000 thru 2002. As a result, HT's song, "BK," was showcased on over 200 U.S. major radio stations
- Honey Tongue's catalog of music is licensed by Sony, AEI/DMX Music, NOMA and Hacate Entertainment
- Contributed original songs to nationally distributed films, DVDs & compilation CDs: Helly Hansen's "Lifted" extreme sports promo DVD 2004/05 (250,000 units distributed globally), "The Secret Spot" extreme sports film, GoGirlsMusicFest 2005, Fuel Your Soul 2004, Seattle Ladyfest 2003, Torrid Tunes (retail stores), Musicians for FANS (for autism), Baylight Publishing's "Take A Bite," and Artists Alliance Against Domestic Violence CD
- Endorsed by Sennheiser, Dean Markley, Thomastik-Infeld and Boom Theory
- National touring schedule averaging 20 shows per month in over 30 states and Canada with active Street Teams

What They're Saying

- With her starlet looks & paint-peeling pipes, the explosively smart 'n' sassy Jen Ayers puts "women in rock" like Shakira and Avril to shame on Honey Tongue's dead-solid debut... — Salt Lake City Weekly
- I've pined for years for the day when I'd find a band led by a woman, with literate lyrics, hard-charging punk guitars, and riffs to bring me back to Blondie or the Pretenders of a quarter century ago. Honey Tongue has made it worth the wait...It's been a while since I've heard such a listenable and talented band... — Eric Steiner, Cosmik Debris
- While the spirit of the Pacific NW's alt-rock revolution lies underneath Honey Tongue's skin, it draws on power-pop for its charming sound. Driven by singer Jen Ayers' velvety delivery, Honey Tongue boasts the up-front vocal melodies of pure pop, as Ayers has a throat that could go one-on-one with any rock diva's... Ayers' songwriting skirts the shallow themes that usually come with pop, and settle upon introspective & intelligent lyrics. She isn't the only talent in Honey Tongue's lineup, either, as virtually every member of the quartet has an equal helping of it... — Matt Schild, AOL's Cityguide-Chicago